Secret Chef Service

If you want your friends to think you've been cooking over a hot stove all day in preparation for your party let Chef Avenell take care of all the details! Chef Avenell will prepare your menu from soup to nuts then sneak out the back door prior to your guests' arrival so you can take all the credit. No one will be the wiser!

Interactive Dinner Party

Interactive party is a party thrown at your home or place of choice with lots of entertainment provided by Chef Avenell and guests. It's a great way for your guests, new and old friends, to get together, and have fun cooking and eating. It gives everyone something to do, talk about, and share as a group. You will see novices learning new kitchen techniques and the competitive cooks trying to out-do one another, all in the name of fun. It is a relaxed atmosphere charged with fun and laughter.

Intimate Dinner Parties for Two

A romantic evening for two with your own personal chef makes an unusual special gift idea for celebrating birthdays, anniversaries, and special holidays or just to say "I love you".

Fundraising Event

Cooking fundraisers are popular because people love to cook. Even more so, they love to eat! If you are looking for a unique way to raise funds for your group or organization contact Chef Avenell today.

Cooking Classes

These classes are created for both novices who need a “crash course” to learn all the basics, as well as for avid home cooks seeking to hone and enhance their knowledge.

Wine

Chef Avenell has been interested in and studied wine since the mid-1980s and is also a Wine Consultant. The pairing of food and wine has gained popularity and provides education and entertainment. Let Chef Avenell facilitate your next pairing event.

With her knowledge of both fine wine and finer foods, she can help you choose the best wines for your event and even tailor a special wine and food evening for you!

While Chef Avenell is not a sommelier her vast reservoir of knowledge in this area equals or exceeds one. She encourages all her clients to consult her in regards to their wine selections to ensure well rounded compliments to selected menu.
